June 2025

Dear IJHS community,

In 2024, we continued to grow. The 2024 IJHS Global Student Leadership Council (GSLC) welcomed 25 student leaders—up from 19 the previous year—with increased gender diversity and regional representation. Applications tripled to 72.

At the national level, our Country Student Leadership Councils (CSLCs) laid the groundwork for long-term community engagement. From expanding access to education to launching environmental initiatives, these councils have unified chapters and coordinated projects that are already positively impacting hundreds of lives.

The momentum carried through our Young Achievers Leadership Academy (YALA) program, which saw the participation of 145 students from 14 countries. From tackling mental health stigma to building educational equity, these changemakers brought energy and innovation to every phase of the program.

In 2025, we are focused on scale and depth. Five new CSLCs will launch this fall in underrepresented regions, including Southeast Asia and West Africa, extending leadership development to an estimated 1,200 new students. We're also introducing targeted micro-courses in digital storytelling, peer counseling, and project leadership to give every IJHS member the practical tools to lead change in their schools and communities.

Thank you for being part of this journey. Let's continue to nurture a generation of thoughtful, capable, and committed youth leaders.

With gratitude,

Zeyu Yao and Ronan Ooi
Co-Presidents of the IJHS GSLC

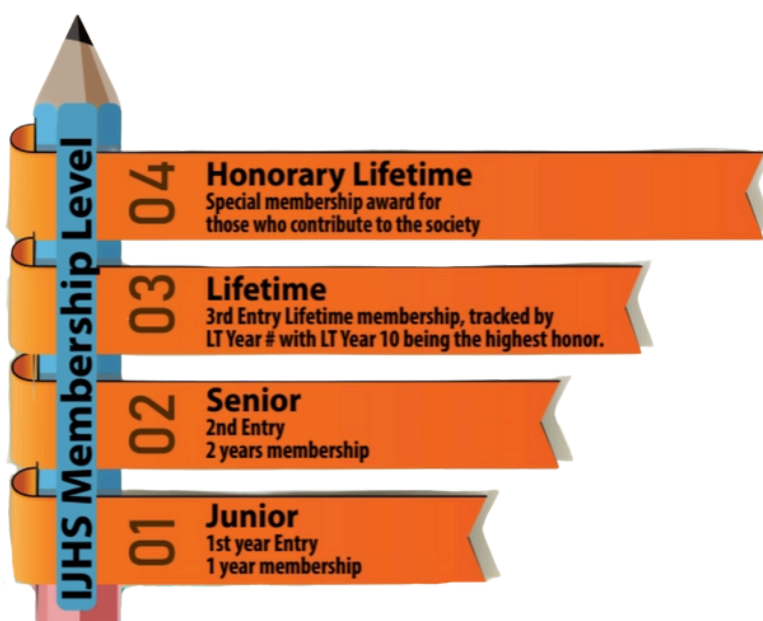

International Junior Honor Society

Leaders Give, Givers Get!

The International Junior Honor Society is an honor society that focuses on developing leaders and enabling its members to achieve success in academic and life pursuits. IJHS provides its members with a variety of platforms and opportunities to unleash their full potential, as well as connect to their community.

IJHS is fully funded by Scholastic Trust Singapore (STS), a non-profit foundation, supported by a prominent volunteer board of advisors to help guide bright young leaders.

ABOUT IJHS

- Vision: a strong community of compassionate leaders.
- Values: humility, empathy, adaptability, resolute, truthfulness.

GOALS

- Unlock the potential, talents, passions, and interests of aspiring Fellows
- Empower young leaders to give back to their local and global communities
- Pave the way for members to gain entry into top schools and qualify for scholarships
- Provide top institutions' admission and scholarship coaching to high achievers
- Make the world a better place.

Country Student
Leadership Council

In 2024, we have expanded our CSLC initiative in

In 2025, we aim to create CSLCs in the following countries:

"Being part of the GSLC and joining YALA had prepared me to take on these challenges and push myself beyond my boundaries, enabling me to solve problems and continue working."

— Louis Anderson Yapendi,
Singapore SLC President

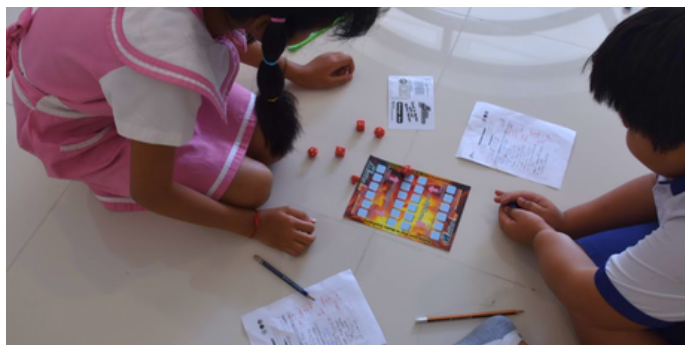

"Due to its nature, the diversity of GSLC allowed me to work with wonderful people from across the globe, create events and run them under the Cambodian SLC council, and also a journey of making friends."

— Kea Chhorita, Cambodian SLC
President

In 2024, the International Junior Honor Society membership has expanded to 30 countries!
